JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

COMPLAINT

NOW COME Plaintiffs, by and through their attorneys, and allege the following against Defendants Twitter, Inc., Google, Inc., Facebook, Inc. (“Defendants”):

NATURE OF ACTION

1. For years, Defendants have knowingly and recklessly provided the terrorist group ISIS with accounts to use its social networks as a tool for spreading extremist propaganda, raising funds, and attracting new recruits. This material support has been instrumental to the rise of ISIS and has enabled it to carry out or cause to be carried out, numerous terrorist attacks, including December 2, 2015, attack in San Bernadino where 22 were seriously injured and 14 were killed, including Sierra Clayborn, Tin Nguyen, and Nicholas Thalasinos. Defendants are information content providers because they create unique content by combining ISIS postings with advertisements in a way that is specifically targeted at the viewer. Defendants share revenue with ISIS for its content and profit from ISIS postings through advertising revenue.
  2. Without Defendants Twitter, Facebook, and Google (YouTube), the explosive growth of ISIS over the last few years into the most feared terrorist group in the world would not have been possible. According to the Brookings Institution, ISIS “has exploited social media, most notoriously Twitter, to send its propaganda and messaging out to the world and to draw in people vulnerable to

1 radicalization.”<sup>1</sup> Using Defendants’ sites, “ISIS has been able to exert an
2 outsized impact on how the world perceives it, by disseminating images of
3 graphic violence (including the beheading of Western journalists and aid
4 workers) . . . while using social media to attract new recruits and inspire lone
5 actor attacks.” According to FBI Director James Comey, ISIS has perfected 6 its use of Defendants’ sites to inspire small-scale individual attacks, “to 7 crowdsource terrorism” and “to sell murder.”

- 8
- 9
- 10 3. Since first appearing on Twitter in 2010, ISIS accounts on Twitter have grown at 11 an astonishing rate and, until recently, ISIS maintained official accounts on 12 Twitter unfettered. These official accounts included media outlets, regional hubs
13 and well-known ISIS members, some with tens of thousands of followers. For 14 example, Al-Furqan, ISIS’s official media wing responsible for producing ISIS’s
15 multimedia propaganda, maintained a dedicated Twitter page where it posted 16 messages from ISIS leadership as well as videos and images of beheadings and 17 other brutal forms of executions to 19,000 followers.
18
- 19 4. Likewise, Al-Hayat Media Center, ISIS’s official public relations group, 20 maintained at least a half dozen accounts, emphasizing the recruitment of 21 Westerners. As of June 2014, Al-Hayat had nearly 20,000 followers.

- 12 5. Another Twitter account, @ISIS_Media_Hub, had 8,954 followers as of 13
14 September 2014.

22 Figure 2 ISIS Propaganda Posted on @ISIS_Media_Hub

- 23 6. As of December 2014, ISIS had an estimated 70,000 Twitter accounts, at least 79
24 of which were “official,” and it posted at least 90 tweets every minute.
25
26 7. As with Twitter, ISIS has used Google (YouTube) and Facebook in a similar 27 manner.

ALLEGATIONS

21. ISIS, which stands for the Islamic State of Iraq and Syria, is also known as the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant (“ISIL”), the Islamic State (“IS”), ad-Dawlah al-Islāmiyah fīl-‘Irāq wa-Shām (“DAESH”) and al-Qaeda in Iraq (“AQI”).
  22. Originally affiliated with al Qaeda, ISIS’s stated goal is the establishment of a transnational Islamic caliphate, i.e. an Islamic state run under strict Sharia law. By February 2014, however, ISIS’s tactics had become too extreme for even al Qaeda and the two organizations separated.
  23. Since its emergence in Iraq in the early 2000’s when it was known as AQI, ISIS has wielded increasing territorial power, applying brutal, terrifying violence to

1 attain its military and political goals, including summary executions, mass
2 beheadings, amputations, shootings and crucifixions, which it applies to anyone
3 it considers an “unbeliever,” a “combatant” or a “prisoner of war.”

- 5 24. The United Nations and International NGOs have condemned ISIS for war
6 crimes and ethnic cleansing, and more than 60 countries are currently fighting to 7 defeat ISIS and prevent its expansion.
- 9 25. On December 17, 2004, the United States designated ISIS as a Foreign Terrorist 10 Organization (“FTO”) under Section 219 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 11 as amended.
12

13 ISIS is Dependent on Twitter, YouTube, and Facebook to Terrorize
14

15 ISIS Uses Defendants to Recruit New Terrorists
16

- 17 26. One of ISIS’s primary uses of Defendants’ sites is as a recruitment platform,
18 particularly to draw fighters from Western countries.
19 27. ISIS reaches potential recruits by maintaining accounts on Twitter, YouTube,
20 and Facebook so that individuals across the globe may reach out to them directly.
21 After the first contact, potential recruits and ISIS recruiters often communicate
22 via Defendants’ Direct Messaging capabilities. According to FBI Director James 23 Comey, “[o]ne of the challenges in facing this hydra-headed monster is that if 24 (ISIS) finds someone online, someone who might be willing to travel or kill 25 in place they will begin a Twitter direct messaging contact.” Indeed, according 26 to the Brookings Institution, some ISIS members “use Twitter purely for private 27
28

1 messaging or covert signaling.”

- 2 28. In addition to individual recruitment, ISIS members use Defendants to post
3 instructional guidelines and promotional videos referred to as “mujatweets.”
4 29. For example, in June 2014, ISIS fighters tweeted guidelines in English targeting 5 Westerners and instructing them on how to travel to the Middle East to join its 6 fight.
7 30. That same month, ISIS posted a recruitment video on various social media sites,
8 including Defendants. Although YouTube removed the video from its site, the 9 link remained available for download from Twitter. The video was further 10 promoted through retweets by accounts associated with ISIS.
11 31. ISIS also posted its notorious promotional training video, “Flames of War,” 12 narrated in English, in September 2014. The video was widely distributed on 13 Twitter through ISIS sympathizers. After joining ISIS, new recruits become 14 propaganda tools themselves, using Defendants to advertise their membership and 15 terrorist activities.
16 32. For example, in May 2013, a British citizen who publicly identified himself as 17 an ISIS supporter tweeted about his touchdown in Turkey before crossing the 18 border into Syria to join ISIS in the fight against the Syrian regime. And in 19 December 2013, the first Saudi Arabian female suicide bomber to join ISIS in 20 Syria tweeted her intent to become a martyr for the ISIS cause, as she embarked 21 for Syria.
22 33. As another example, two Tunisian girls, ages 19 and 21, were lured by ISIS’s use
23 of Facebook to travel to Syria believing they would be providing humanitarian 24

1 aid<sup>2</sup>. Instead, they were taken to an ISIS compound where there were forced to
 2 serve as prostitutes and were repeatedly raped. The girls escaped during a
 3 bombing of the compound and returned home.

- 5 34. Recently, it was reported that the leader of ISIS in the United Kingdom, Omar
 6 Hussain, was using Facebook to recruit terrorists to launch attacks in the U.K.<sup>3</sup>
- 7
- 8 35. After kidnapping and murdering Ruqia Hassan Mohammad, a female journalist
 9 and activist, ISIS used her account to lure others into supporting ISIS<sup>4</sup>.
- 10
- 11 36. Through its use of Defendants' sites, ISIS has recruited more than 30,000 foreign 12 recruits since 2013, including some 4,500 Westerners and 250 Americans.

13                   ISIS Uses Defendants to Fund Terrorism

- 14
- 15 37. ISIS also uses Defendants to raise funds for its terrorist activities.
- 16
- 17 38. According to David Cohen, the U.S. Treasury Department's Under Secretary 18 for Terrorism and Financial Intelligence, “[y]ou see these appeals on Twitter in 19 particular from, you know, well-know[n] terrorist financiers . . . and they're 20 quite explicit that these are to be made to ISIL for their military campaign.”
- 21
- 22 39. The Financial Action Task Force confirms that “individuals associated with ISIL 23 have called for donations via Twitter and have asked the donors to contact them.”

These tweets even promote “donation tiers.” One ISIS-linked cleric with the Twitter account @Jahd_bmalk, for instance, sought donations for weapons with the slogan “Participate in Jihad with your Money.” The account tweeted that “if 50 dinars is donated, equivalent to 50 sniper rounds, one will receive a ‘silver status.’ Likewise, if 100 dinars is donated, which buys eight mortar rounds, the contributor will earn the title of ‘gold status’ donor.” According to various tweets from the account, over 26,000 Saudi Riyals (almost $7,000) were donated.

40. A similar Twitter campaign in the spring of 2014 asked followers to “support the Mujahideen with financial contribution via the following reliable accounts” and provided contact information for how to make the requested donations.

In its other Twitter fundraising campaigns, ISIS has posted photographs of cash gold bars and luxury cars that it received from donors, as well as weapons purchased with the proceeds.

9 Figure 4 Donations to ISIS Publicized on Twitter

- 10
11 41. As discussed more fully below, YouTube approves of ISIS videos allowing for 12 ads to be placed with ISIS videos. YouTube earns revenue from these 13 advertisements and shares a portion of the proceeds with ISIS.
14
15 42. Below is an example of a video posted by ISIS on YouTube with a member
16 speaking in French looking for Muslims to support ISIS's cause online.

25 Figure 5 Screenshot from ISIS Video Posted on June 17, 2015

27
28 ISIS Uses Defendants' Sites to Spread Its Propaganda

43. ISIS also uses Defendants' sites to spread propaganda and incite fear by posting graphic photos and videos of its terrorist feats.
  44. Through Defendants' sites, ISIS disseminates its official media publications as well as posts about real-time atrocities and threats to its perceived enemies.
  45. In October 2013, ISIS posted a video of a prison break at the Abu Ghraib prison in Iraq, and its subsequent execution of Iraqi army officers.
  46. In November 2013, an ISIS-affiliated user reported on Twitter that ISIS had killed a man it mistakenly believed to be Shiite. Another post by an ISIS account purported to depict Abu Dahr, identified as the “suicide bomber that attacked the Iranian embassy.”
  47. In December 2013, an ISIS-affiliated user tweeted pictures of what it described as the killing of an Iraqi cameraman.
  48. In June 2014, ISIS tweeted a picture of an Iraqi police chief, sitting with his severed head perched on his legs. The accompanying tweet read: “This is our ball . . . it has skin on it.” ISIS then hashtagged the tweet with the handle #WorldCup so that the image popped up on the feeds of millions following the soccer challenge in Brazil.
  49. On July 25, 2014, ISIS members tweeted photos of the beheading of around 75 Syrian soldiers who had been captured during the Syrian conflict.
  50. In August 2014, an Australian member of ISIS tweeted a photo of his seven-

1 year- old son holding the decapitated head of a Syrian soldier.

2 51. Also in August 2014, ISIS member Abu Musaab Hafid al-Baghdadi posted
3 photos on his Twitter account showing an ISIS militant beheading a blindfolded
4 captured Lebanese Army Sergeant Ali al-Sayyed.

5 52. That same month, ISIS supporters tweeted over 14,000 tweets threatening
6 Americans under the hashtags #WarOnWhites and #AMessagefromISIStoUS,
7 including posting gruesome photos of dead and seriously injured Allied soldiers.
8 Some of the photos depicted U.S. marines hung from bridges in Fallujah, human 9 heads on spikes and the twin towers in flames following the 9/11 attacks. Other 10 messages included direct threats to attack U.S. embassies around the world, and 11 to kill all Americans “wherever you are.”
12

13 53. Various ISIS accounts have also tweeted pictures and videos of the beheadings
14 of Americans James Foley, Steven Sotloff, and Peter Kassig.
15

16 54. To keep its membership informed, in April 2014, ISIS created an Arabic-
17 language Twitter App called “The Dawn of Glad Tidings,” or “The Dawn,” which 18 posts tweets to thousands of users’ accounts, the content of which is controlled by 19 ISIS’s social media operation. The tweets include hashtags, links, and images
20 related to ISIS’s activities. By June 2014, the app reached a high of 40,000 tweets
21 in one day as ISIS captured Mosul, Iraq.
22

23 55. ISIS has also used Twitter to coordinate hashtag campaigns, whereby it enlists
24

1 thousands of members to repetitively tweet hashtags at certain times of the day so
 2 that they trend on Twitter, meaning a wider number of users are exposed to the 3 tweets. One such campaign dubbed a “Twitter storm,” took place on June 8, 2014,
 4 and led to a surge in followers.

- 5
- 6 56. In 2014, propaganda operatives from ISIS posted videos of photojournalist John 7 Cantile and other captors on both Twitter and YouTube<sup>5</sup>. These operatives used
 8 various techniques to ensure that ISIS’ posting was spread using Defendants’
 9 sites. In her New York Times article, (Not “Lone Wolves” After All: How ISIS
 10 Guides World’s Terror Plots From Afar-2/5/17), Rakmini Callimachi
 11 acknowledges that because of Twitter and other social media, “In the most basic 12 enabled attacks Islamic State handlers acted as confidants and coaches, coaxing
 13 recruits to embrace violence. ... Because the recruits are instructed to use
 14 encrypted messaging applications, the guiding role played by the terrorist group
 15 often remains obscured. As a result, remotely guided plots in Europe, Asia, and 16 the United States ... were initially labeled the work of “lone wolves”, ... and only 17 later discovered to have direct communications with the group discovered.”

23 Defendants Knowingly Permit ISIS to Use Their Social Network

24

25 The Use of Twitter by Terrorists Has Been Widely Reported

26

- 27 57. For years, the media has reported on the ISIS’s use of Defendants’ social media

<sup>5</sup> <http://www.theguardian.com/world/2014/sep/24/isis-Twitter-youtube-message-social-media-jihadi>

1 sites and their refusal to take any meaningful action to stop it.

2 58. In December 2011, the New York Times reported that the terrorist group al-
3 Shabaab, “best known for chopping off hands and starving their own people, just 4 opened a Twitter account and have been writing up a storm, bragging about recent 5 attacks and taunting their enemies.”

7 59. That same month, terrorism experts cautioned that “Twitter terrorism” was part
8 of “an emerging trend” and that several branches of al Qaeda were using Twitter
9 to recruit individuals, fundraise and distribute propaganda more efficiently. New 10 York Times correspondent, Rukmini Callimachi, probably the most significant 11 reporter covering terrorism, acknowledges that social media and specifically
12 Twitter, allows her to “get inside the minds of ISIS”. Moreover, Callimachi
13 acknowledges, “Twitter is the main engine” in ISIS communication, messaging
14 and recruiting. “Al Qaeda (and now ISIS) have created a structure that was meant
15 to regenerate itself and no longer be dependent on just one person (bin Laden).
16 The Ideology is now a living, breathing thing, because of Twitter. You no longer
17 have to go to some closed dark-web forum to see their stuff.” Using Twitter, you 18 don’t need to even know the exact address to gain access to messages. “With 19 Twitter, you can guess; you look for certain words and you end up finding these 20 accounts. And then it’s kind of organic; You go to one account, then you go to 21 their followers and you follow all those people, and suddenly you’re in the know.
22 “(Rukmini Callimachi, Wired.com, 8/3/16.)
23

24 60. On November 20, 2015, Business Insider reported that ISIS members have been 25

1 providing a 34-page guide to operational security and communications available
2 through multiple social medium platforms which delivers instructions to users
3 about communications methods including specifics in the use of Twitter, for 4 purposes of recruiting and radicalizing in the United States.Twitter

- 6 61. On October 14, 2013, the BBC issued a report on “The Sympatic,” “one of the 7 most important spokesmen of the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant on the social
8 contact website Twitter” who famously tweeted: “I swear by God that with us
9 there are mujahideen who are not more than 15 years old!! Where are the men of 10 the [Arabian] Peninsula? By God, shame on you.”
11
- 12 62. On October 31, 2013, Agence France-Presse reported on an ISIS video depicting 13 a prison break at Abu Ghraib and the execution of Iraqi army officers that was 14 “posted on jihadi forums and Twitter.”
15
- 16 63. On June 19, 2014, CNN reported on ISIS’s use of Twitter to raise money for 17 weapons, food, and operations. The next day, Seth Jones, Associate Director of 18 International Security and Defense Policy Center, stated in an interview on CNN
19 that Twitter was widely used by terrorist groups like ISIS to collect information,
20 fundraise and recruit. “Social media is where it’s at for these groups,” he added.
21
- 22 64. On August 21, 2014, after ISIS tweeted out the graphic video showing the 23 beheading of American James Foley, the Wall Street Journal warned that Twitter
24 could no longer afford to be the “Wild West” of social media.
25
- 26 65. In September 2014, Time Magazine quoted terrorism expert Rita Katz, who 27 observed that “[f]or several years, ISIS followers have been hijacking Twitter
28

1 to freely promote their jihad with very little to no interference at all. . . .
 2 Twitter's lack of action has resulted in a strong, and massive pro-ISIS presence
 3 on their social media platform, consisting of campaigns to mobilize, recruit and 4 terrorize.”

6 The Use of Facebook by ISIS has been widely reported

- 7 66. On January 10, 2012, CBC News Released an article stating that Facebook is 8 being used by terrorist organizations for recruitment and to gather military and 9 political intelligence "Many users don't even bother finding out who they are 10 confirming as 'friend' and to whom they are providing access to a large amount of 11 information on their personal life. The terrorists themselves, in parallel, are able 12 to create false profiles that enable them to get into highly visible groups," he said<sup>6</sup>.
 13
- 14 67. On January 10, 2014, the Washington post released an article titled Why aren't 15 YouTube, Facebook, and Twitter doing more to stop terrorists from inciting
 16 violence?<sup>7</sup>
 17
- 18 68. In June 2014, the Washington times reported that Facebook is refusing to take 19 down a known ISIS terror group fan page that “has nearly 6,000 members and 20 adoringly quotes Abu Musab al-Zarqawi, founder of al-Qaeda in Iraq who was 21 killed by U.S. forces in 2006.”<sup>8</sup>

69. On August 21, 2014, the anti-defamation league explained that ISIS supporters on Twitter have “not only promoted ISIS propaganda (primarily in English) but has also directed supporters to his English-language Facebook pages (continuously replacing pages as they are removed by Facebook for content violation) that do the same.”<sup>9</sup>

70. On October 28, 2015, at the Radicalization: Social Media And The Rise Of Terrorism hearing it was reported that Zale Thompson who attacked four New York City Police Officers with an ax posted on Facebook “Which is better, to sit around and do nothing or to wage jihad.<sup>10</sup>”

71. At this same hearing, it was also reported that in September 2014 “Alton Nolen, a convert to Islam and ex-convict who had just been fired from his job at a food processing plant, entered his former workplace and beheaded an employee with a knife. This attack combines elements of workplace violence and terrorism. Nolen had been a voracious consumer of IS propaganda, a fact reflected on his Facebook page.<sup>11</sup>”

8 Defendants Have Rebuffed Numerous Requests to Comply with U.S. Law

- 9 86. Throughout this period, both the U.S. government and the public at large have 10 urged Defendants to stop providing its services to terrorists.
- 11
- 12 87. In December 2011, an Israeli law group threatened to file suit against Twitter for 13 allowing terrorist groups like Hezbollah to use its social network in violation of 14 U.S. anti-terrorism laws.
- 15
- 16 88. In December 2012, several members of Congress wrote to FBI Director Robert 17 Mueller asking the Bureau to demand that the Twitter block the accounts of 18 various terrorist groups.
- 19
- 20 89. In a committee hearing held on August 2, 2012, Rep. Ted Poe, chair of the House
 21 Foreign Affairs Subcommittee on Terrorism, lamented that "when it comes to a 22 terrorist using Twitter, Twitter has not shut down or suspended a single account."
 23
 24 "Terrorists are using Twitter," Rep. Poe added, and "[i]t seems like it's a violation

1 of the law.” In 2015, Rep. Poe again reported that Twitter had consistently failed
2 to respond sufficiently to pleas to shut down clear incitements to violence by 3 terrorists.

5 90. Recently, former Secretary of State Hillary Clinton has urged Defendants to 6 become more aggressive in preventing ISIS from using its network. “Resolve 7 means depriving jihadists of virtual territory, just as we work to deprive them of 8 actual territory,” she told one audience. Later, Secy. Clinton stated that Twitter 9 and other companies “cannot permit the recruitment and the actual direction of 10 attacks or the celebration of violence by this sophisticated Internet user. They’re 11 going to have to help us take down these announcements and these appeals.”
12

14 91. On January 7, 2016, White House officials announced that they would hold
15 high- level discussions with Defendants to encourage them “to do more to block
16 terrorists” from using their services. “The primary purpose is for government
17 officials to press the biggest Internet firms to take a more proactive approach to 18 countering terrorist messages and recruitment online. . . . That issue has long
19 vexed U.S. counterterrorism officials, as terror groups use Twitter . . . to spread
20 terrorist propaganda, cultivate followers and steer them toward committing
21 violence. But the companies have resisted some requests by law-enforcement
22 leaders to take action . . . ”
23
24

25 Defendants have failed to prevent ISIS from using its services
26

27 92. Despite these appeals, Defendants have failed to take meaningful action.
28

- 1 93. In a January 2011 blog post entitled “The tweets Must Flow,” Twitter co-
2 founder Biz Stone and Twitter General Counsel Alex Macgillivray wrote: “We
3 don’t always agree with the things people choose to tweet, but we keep the 4 information flowing irrespective of any view we may have about the content.”
- 6 94. On June 20, 2014, Twitter founder Biz Stone, responding to media questions about 7 ISIS’s use of Twitter to publicize its acts of terrorism, said, “[i]f you want to create 8 a platform that allows for the freedom of expression for hundreds of millions of 9 people around the world, you really have to take the good with the bad.”
10
- 11 95. In September 2014, Twitter spokesperson Nu Wexler reiterated Twitter’s hands-12 off approach, telling the press, “Twitter users around the world send 13 approximately 500 million tweets each day, and we do not monitor them
14 proactively.” “The Twitter Rules” reiterated that Twitter “do[es] not actively 15 monitor and will not censor user content, except in exceptional circumstances.”
16
- 17 In February 2015, Twitter confirmed that it does not proactively monitor content
18 and that it reviews only that content which is reported by other users as violating 19 its rules.
20
- 21 96. Most technology experts agree that Defendants could and should be doing more 22 to stop ISIS from using its social network. “When Twitter says, ‘We can’t do this,’
23 I don’t believe that,” said Hany Farid, chairman of the computer science
24 department at Dartmouth College. Mr. Farid, who co-developed a child
25 pornography tracking system with Microsoft, says that the same technology could 26
- 27
- 28

1       be applied to terror content, so long as companies were motivated to do so.
2       “There’s no fundamental technology or engineering limitation,” he said. “This is
3       a business or policy decision. Unless the companies have decided that they just 4       can’t be bothered.”

- 6       97. According to Rita Katz, the director of SITE Intelligence Group, “Twitter is not 7       doing enough. With the technology Twitter has, they can immediately stop these 8       accounts, but they have done nothing to stop the dissemination and recruitment of 9       lone wolf terrorists.”
10      98. Even when Defendants shut down an ISIS-linked account, they do nothing to stop
11       it from springing right back up. According to the New York Times, the Twitter
12       account of the pro- ISIS group Asawitiri Media has had 335 accounts. When its 13       account @TurMedia333 was shut down, it started @TurMedia334. When that was 14       shut down, it started @TurMedia335. This “naming convention — adding one
15       digit to a new account after the last one is suspended — does not seem as if it
16       would require artificial intelligence to spot.” Each of these accounts also used the 17       same user photograph of a bearded man’s face over and over again. In the hours
18       after the shooting attack in San Bernardino, California on December 2, 2015,
19       @TurMedia335 tweeted: “California, we have already arrived with our soldiers.
20       Decide how to be your end, with knife or bomb.”
21      99. Using this simplistic naming scheme is critical to ISIS’s use of social media.
22       Without a common prefix, it would be difficult for followers of ISIS accounts to 23       know the new name of the account.
24      100. Because of the simplistic renaming scheme, Defendants could easily detect names
25
26
27
28

1       that are likely to be replacement accounts and delete them almost as soon as they
2       are created. Yet Defendants have failed to implement such a basic account
3       detection methodology.

5       101. Furthermore, ISIS keeps track of the followers of each account. Once an account
6       is deleted by one of the Defendants and then regenerated, ISIS uses a bot to contact
7       each of its followers asking them to connect. This allows ISIS to reconstitute the 8       connections for each account very quickly. Defendants could easily detect such 9       activity but chose not to.

12       102. Although Defendants proclaim that they do take accounts down including those 13       of ISIS, Defendants do nothing to keep those accounts down. ISIS and other 14       nefarious groups are dependent upon having a social media network from which 15       to collect money and conduct terrorist operations including recruitment and 16       radicalization.

18
19       103. The following example illustrates how Defendants allow ISIS to quickly construct 20       networks of followers. Below is a posting from Twitter captured on June 20, 21       2016. The individual is named “DriftOne00146” and he proudly proclaims that 22       this is the 146th version of his account. With only 11 tweets, this individual is 23       followed by 349 followers. This is very suspicious activity.

104. The very next day, this individual now has 547 followers with only 3 additional 16 tweets.

105. The next morning, this individual's account was taken down by Twitter. That 16 afternoon, he was back up as DriftOne0147 with 80 followers.

106. The very next week on June 28, 2016, the same individual was back up as 107 DriftOne150. Most disturbing is that his posting of #Bangladesh and #Dhaka just 108 three days before the unfortunate ISIS attack in Dhaka, Bangladesh.

107. The day after the attacks, he is now DriftOne0151 and he posts pictures of those individuals who conducted the attacks.

108. What the above example clearly demonstrates is that there is a pattern that is easily
 109 detectable without reference to the content. As such, a content-neutral algorithm
 110 could be easily developed that would prohibit the above behavior. First, there is 111 a text prefix to the username that contains a numerical suffix. When an account
 112 is taken down by a Defendant, assuredly all such names are tracked by 113 Defendants. It would be trivial to detect names that appear to have the same name
 114 root with a numerical suffix which is incremented. By limiting the ability to 115 simply create a new account by incrementing a numerical suffix to one which has 116 been deleted, this will disrupt the ability of individuals and organizations from 117 using Defendants networks as an instrument for conducting terrorist operations.

1 109. Prohibiting this conduct would be simple for Defendants to implement and not
2 impinge upon the utility of Defendants sites. There is no legitimate purpose for 3 allowing the use of fixed prefix/incremental numerical suffix names. Preventing 4 the use of these names once a similarly named account would not place a
5 significant burden on Defendants to implement nor would it place any “chilling”
6 effect on the use of Defendants’ sites.

9 110. Sending out large numbers of requests to connect with friends/followers from a 10 newly created account is also suspicious activity. As shown in the “DriftOne”
11 example above, it is clear that this individual must be keeping track of those 12 previously connected. When an account is taken down and then re-established, 13 the individual then uses an automated method to send out requests to all those 14 members previously connected. Thus, accounts for ISIS and others can quickly
15 reconstitute after being deleted. Such activity is suspicious on its face.
16

19 111. Clearly, it is not normal activity for a newly created account to send out large 20 numbers of requests for friends and followers immediately after creation. It is 21 further unusual for those connections requests to be accepted in a very short period
22 of time. As such, this activity would be easy to detect and could be prohibited by 23 Defendants in a content-neutral manner as the content is never considered; only 24 the conduct.
25

27 112. Furthermore, limiting the rapidity with which a newly created account can send 28

1 requests to friends/followers would not place a significant burden on Defendants
2 to implement. Once again, such activity is suspicious and suggestive of 3 reconstitution of an account which was deleted by Defendants. In addition,
4 Defendants could easily track that a newly created account similarly named to one
5 previously taken down is sending out large numbers of requests in a very short
6 period of time.

8 113. Because the suspicious activity used by ISIS and other nefarious organizations
9 engaged in illegal activities is easily detectable and preventable and that 10 Defendants are fully aware that these organizations are using their networks to 11 engage in illegal activity demonstrates that Defendants are acting knowingly and 12 recklessly allowing such illegal conduct. ISIS is dependent on using social media
13 to conduct its terrorist operations. Limiting ISIS' ability to rapidly connect and 14 reconnect to supports Thus, Defendants knowing and reckless conduct provides 15 materials support to ISIS and other nefarious organizations.

18 114. Notably, while Twitter has now put in place a rule that supposedly prohibits
19 "threats of violence . . . including threatening or promoting terrorism," many ISIS-
20 themed accounts are still easily found on Twitter.com. To this day, Twitter also 21 permits groups designated by the U.S. government as Foreign Terrorist 22 Organizations to maintain official accounts, including Hamas (@hamasinfo and 23 @HamasInfoEn) and Hezbollah (@almanarnews).
25
26
27
28

1 115. On November 17, 2015, the hacking group Anonymous took down several
2 thousand ISIS Twitter accounts. That an external third party could identify and 3 disrupt ISIS Twitter accounts confirms that Twitter itself could have prevented or 4 substantially limited ISIS' use of Twitter.

5 Twitter, Facebook, and Google Profit from allowing ISIS to use their services

6 116. Astonishingly, Defendants routinely profit from ISIS. Each Defendant places ads
7 on ISIS postings and derives revenue for the ad placement.

8 117. These ads are not placed randomly by Defendants. Instead, they are targeted to 9 the viewer using knowledge about the viewer as well as information about the 10 content being viewed. The following sites for each Defendant show how 11 targeting works: <https://business.Twitter.com/en/targeting.html>,
12 <https://www.facebook.com/business/a/online-sales/ad-targeting-details>,
13 <https://static.googleusercontent.com/media/www.youtube.com/en//yt/advertise/medias/pdfs/targeting-onesheeter-en.pdf>.

14 118. By specifically targeting advertisements based on viewers and content,
15 Defendants are no longer simply passing through the content of third parties.
16 Defendants are themselves creating content because Defendants exercise control
17 over what advertisement to match with an ISIS posting. Furthermore, Defendants' 18 profits are enhanced by charging advertisers extra for targeting advertisements at 19 viewers based upon knowledge of the viewer and the content being viewed.

1 119. Not only does Defendant Google profit from ISIS, it shares some of those
2 revenues with ISIS. In order for ads to appear associated with a posting on a
3 YouTube video, the poster must create a Google AdSense account. The poster
4 must register the account for monetization<sup>24</sup>.

6 ▼ How can my videos make money?
7 Once your video is submitted and approved for monetization, YouTube will place ads inside or near the video. After you've 8 associated an AdSense account with your YouTube account, you will earn revenue that is generated from the ads. Learn more

9 120. According to Google, each video must be approved in order for ads to be placed.
10 These videos must meet Google's terms of service.

11 ▼ What types of videos are eligible?
12 For a video to be eligible, you must own worldwide commercial usage rights to everything in the video and the video must abide by 13 our Terms of Service and Community Guidelines.

14 121. Videos that are approved generate revenue for both the poster and for Google.
15 Therefore, according to its terms, if there are ads associated with a YouTube
16 video, the video has been approved by Google, Google is earning revenue from 17 each view of that video, and Google is sharing revenue with the poster.
18

19 122. With respect to ISIS, Google has placed ads on ISIS postings.

123. Given that ad placement on videos requires Google's specific approval of the video according to Google's terms and conditions, any video which is associated with advertising has been approved by Google.

124. Because ads appear on the above video posted by ISIS, this means that Google specifically approved the video for monetization, Google earned revenue from each view of this video, and Google shared the revenue with ISIS. As a result,
Google provides material support to ISIS.

125. Twitter also profits from material posted by ISIS by routinely placing ads. For example, a view of the account of "DJ Nasheed" on May 17, 2016, shows that Twitter placed an ad for OneNorth for their "M.E.A.N. Stack" offering. As such,

1 Twitter provides material support to ISIS and is compensated for the effort.

14 Figure 12 ISIS post on Twitter with ad placed by Twitter

16 126. Facebook also profits from ISIS postings. On May 31, 2016, the following 17 screenshot was collected:

127. As such, Facebook provides material support to ISIS and is compensated for the effort.

128. Thus, not only does each Defendant provide material support to ISIS by allowing ISIS to make use of their social media sites, each Defendant derives revenue from ISIS postings irrespective of the content of ISIS's postings.

The December 2, 2015 San Bernadino Attack

129. On December 2, 2015, Radicalized ISIS supporters Syed Rizwan Farook and Tashfeen Malik stormed the Inland Regional Center in San Bernadino, California firing more than 100 bullets into a staff meeting of the environmental health department. In all, 14 people were murdered and 22 were seriously injured. Subsequent to the attack, Farook and Malik were killed in a shootout with police.

130. Among the murdered were Decedents Sierra Clayborn, Tin Nguyen, and Nicholas Thalasinos.

131. Sierra Clayborn, only 27, was killed in the mass terrorist shooting in San Bernardino on December 2, 2015. New to her career in Public and Environmental Health, Sierra was truly thankful for her opportunity to serve the people of San Bernardino as a health inspector. In fact, Sierra had communicated to friends that “she was thankful that God had given her this career.”

132. Family and friends acknowledge that Sierra was “such a bright star in the lives of others” that the terrorism committed by Rizwan Farook and Tasheen Malik, has resulted in the reality that “Sierra will never be forgotten, and will always be missed.” Following the massacre, her best friend and sister Tamishia, stated, “my heart is broken, I am forever devastated.”

133. Tin Nguyen was an ambitious and goal oriented 31-year old, Public Health Inspector in San Bernardino, California. She and her family fled Vietnam when Tin was only 8 years of age, with hope that Tin would live a “happier, more successful life” in the United States. Tin was tragically killed in the terrorist attack in San Bernardino, on December 2nd, 2015 by terrorists Syed Rizwan Farook, and his spouse, Tashfeen Malik.

134. Tin's family believes that her compassion for her community is best exemplified by the countless hours she volunteered researching a cure for Parkinson's disease. Tin's massacre is felt daily by her family, and especially the love of her

1 life, San Trinh, whom Tin planned to marry in 2017.

135. Nicholas Thalasinos, age 52 was tragically gunned down and killed in the acts of Terrorism that took place in San Bernardino, on December 2, 2015. Nicholas, was remembered by his surviving spouse, Jennifer, as a “very devout believer.”
A member of the Messianic Jewish faith, Nicholas was always known to wear tzitzit, Traditional fringe tassels, as well as a tie clip bearing the Star of David, and carried a very strong faith.

136. Nicholas, was long committed to serving compassionately as a Health Inspector in his community of San Bernardino. Following his death at the hands of terrorists, Farook and Malik, friends warmly memorialized Nicholas, as “the man in their lives who was willing to lend a hand to others.”

- 1 137. US Department of Justice analysts confirmed in their 141-page summary on the
2 San Bernardino, massacre, that “two individuals opened fire
3 indiscriminately...as part of a vicious and premeditated terrorist attack...
- 5 138. On December 2, 2015, radicalized, ISIS supporters, Syed Rizwan Farook and 6 his spouse Tashfeen Malik committed an act of international terrorism by 7 spraying bullets into a crowd of employees at a holiday party for the 8 environmental health department in San Bernardino.
- 10 139. Investigators have confirmed that Farook and Malik started a dialogue on line
11 via a dating web site, and married a short time after Farook travelled to Saudi
12 Arabia in 2014. Malik travelled to California to live with her husband shortly
13 after their wedding. At the time of their terrorist attack and ultimately their 14 deaths, Malik and Farook had a 6-month-old daughter.
15
- 16 140. The acts of terrorism in the San Bernardino massacre were conducted against 17 Farook’s former co-workers who assembled for the scheduled environmental 18 health department training session, to be followed by a celebration of the holiday
19 season.
20
- 21 141. Instead, Farook and Malik killed 14 people and severely injured 14 others during 22 their terrorist massacre. The assassins, Farook and Malik were also killed the 23 same day by resisting arrest and entering a shoot- out with law enforcement.
24
- 25 142. Farook and Malik were dressed in black outfits and face coverings, and armed 26

with .223 AR-15 type semi-automatic rifles, and a .9mm semi-automatic pistol, as well as assembled pipe bombs that failed to detonate.

143. Just a couple of days later, ISIS embraced the acts of terrorism by declaring on their station, al-Bayan Radio, “Two followers of Islamic State attacked several days ago a center in San Bernardino in California, we pray to God to accept them as Martyrs.”

144. Moreover, during the time of the shooting massacre, terrorist Tashfeen Malik, declared on Facebook her allegiance and pledge of loyalty to ISIS leader, Abu Bakr al-Baghdadi.

145. On December 9, 2015, during Senate Judiciary testimony concerning the San Bernardino terrorist attack, FBI Director James Comey, stated for the record that the investigation by the FBI had established that Farook and Malik were “consuming poison on the internet” and that both had become radicalized to jihadism and to martyrdom via social media platforms available to them.

146. During his testimony, Comey confirmed that Farook and Malik were “homegrown violent extremists, inspired by foreign terrorist organizations.”

147. The FBI according to the report of the New York Times, (December 5,2015) has confirmed that they had evidence that Farook had face to face meetings a few years ago with 5 people the Bureau investigated and labelled as having “links to terrorism”.

1 148. Further links to terrorism were discovered in the home of Farook and Malik,
2 where FBI search uncovered what they described as “pipe bombs, bomb making
3 materials and thousands of rounds of ammunition along with several more
4 guns.”

6 149. Speaking of “home grown international terrorists, in the US, including Farook
7 and Malik in San Bernardino, Brookings Institute Terrorism expert, Daniel
8 Byman has stated the Islamic State has made their radicalization of US
9 extremists in 2014 releases via the ISIS Online magazine Dabiq which urged in 10 their October 2014 on line edition” At this point of our crusade. It is very 11 important that attacks take place in every country that has entered into alliance
12 against the Islamic State, especially the U.S., U.K., France, Australia and 13 Germany.”

17 150. The DOJ, in their 2016 report entitled “Bringing Calm to Chaos: A critical
18 incident review of the San Bernardino public safety response to the December 19 2, 2015, terrorist shooting at the Island Regional Center”, confirms that the 20 attack committed by Rizwan Farouk, and Tashfeen Malik was in fact an act of 21 international terrorism. (page 48)

24 151. A factor helping to confirm that the massacre in San Bernardino was an act of 25 terrorism was the discovery in the aftermath by FBI SWAT agents, that Terrorist
26 Farook had evidently assembled and left in a “suspicious package”, explosive 27

1 devices that miraculously failed to detonate and were later safely detonated by
2 the bomb squad.

4 152. The DOJ summary report confirms that “investigators believed the explosive 5 devices left by Farook in the conference room where the carnage occurred, was 6 likely intended to be detonated upon the arrival of the first responders who would 7 be giving aid to the wounded-a frequent, well documented practice in 8 international terror incidents.” (DOJ, San Bernardino Summary report, page 36).

10 153. FBI and DOJ investigators have indicated that they are of the belief that terrorists
11 Farook and Malik, left at the massacre site a remote-controlled toy car strapped
12 with the 3 rudimentary explosive devices. The deadly remote was found with 13 Farook and Malik upon their deaths, and evidently did not work.
14

16 154. FBI investigators have opined that the explosive devices along with the remote 17 control was likely intended to be detonated against the first responders arriving
18 to provide medical help to terrorism victims. Further they are potentially derived 19 from Al Qaeda’s Inspire Magazine, plus the ISIS’ Dabiq Magazine, wherein the 20 international terrorist organizations have provided “tips” and instructions to be 21 utilized in preparation of such explosive devices as found at the scene of the San 22 Bernardino carnage.
23

26 155. The murders of Nguyen, Clayborn and Thalasinos has caused Plaintiff’s severe 27 mental anguish, extreme emotional pain and suffering, and the loss of Nguyen’s,
28

1           Clayborn's and Thalasinos' society, companionship, comfort, advice and
2           counsel.

4           Defendants' Material Support of ISIS has a Direct Connection to the December
5           2, 2015 San Bernadino Attack and is a Proximate Cause

6           156. ISIS's reputation as an organization that has engaged in and continues to engage
7           in terrorist acts is widespread and has been reported in the world news media.

8           157. ISIS's designation as a Foreign Terrorist Organization is public knowledge that 9           has likewise been widely reported in the world news media.

10           158. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Defendants have known that ISIS is an 11           organization that has engaged in and continues to engage in terrorist activity.

12           159. At all times relevant to this Complaint, Defendants have known that ISIS is 13           designated as a Foreign Terrorist Organization.

14           160. Despite this knowledge, Defendants have for years knowingly provided its 15           Services to ISIS, its members, organizations owned or controlled by ISIS, and 16           organizations and individuals that provide financing and material support to ISIS,
17           including individuals and organizations that are designated as and SDGTs.

18           161. The identifiers for ISIS-associated Twitter, You-Tube, and Facebook accounts are 19           often publicized on ISIS websites, social media sites, and platforms.

20           162. ISIS's news and media organizations operate Twitter, YouTube, and Facebook

1 accounts, and equipment often including separate accounts for Arabic and 2 English.

4 163. ISIS, its members, and its related entities and affiliates have operated numerous
5 Twitter accounts of the defendants' using their own names and displaying
6 emblems and symbols associated with ISIS and its related terrorist entities.

8 164. The rise of ISIS has been substantial fueled through their use of Defendants' social 9 media sites which have been used by ISIS for fundraising activities. Furthermore,
10 as discussed above, Defendant Google shares advertising revenue with ISIS.
11

12 165. Defendants' sites have been used by ISIS to conduct terrorist operations, including 13 the San Bernadino attack and have also been used as a recruitment tool and 14 fundraising tool.
15

16 166. The FBI believes that the San Bernadino shooters were self-radicalized on the 17 Internet and social media.
18

19 167. ISIS uses Defendants' sites to radicalize individuals to conduct terrorist activities.
20 Farook and Malik were radicalized by ISIS's use of Defendants' tools to conduct
21 terrorist operations.
22

23 168. Even if Farook and Malik had never been directly in contact with ISIS, ISIS' use
24 of social media directly influenced their actions on the day of the San Bernadino
25 massacre:
26

1 researchers, who identified and analyzed second-by-second online
 2 records of 196 pro-ISIS groups operating during the first eight months of
 3 2015, found that even though most of the 108,000-plus individual
 4 members of these self-organized groups probably never met, they had a 5 striking ability to adapt and extend their online longevity, increase their 6 size and number, reincarnate when shut down — and inspire “lone
 7 wolves” with no history of extremism to carry out horrific attacks.<sup>25</sup>

8 169. Without the ability to use Defendants’ sites as tools to conduct terrorist operations, 9 ISIS would have substantially less funding, substantially less exposure, and would
 10 not be able to recruit as many operatives.

11 170. Money raised through the use of Defendants sites was used by ISIS to conduct
 12 terrorist operations including radicalizing Farook and Malik.

13 171. Individuals recruited by ISIS through the use of Defendants sites allowed ISIS to 14 conduct terrorist operations, including radicalizing Farook and Malik contributing 15 to their decision to launch the San Bernadino attack and murdering Plaintiffs’
 16 Decedents.

17 172. Subsequent to the San Bernadino attack and before their death, Malik pledged her 18 allegiance to ISIS on Facebook. Facebook further confirmed that postings to an 19 account established by Malic under an alias praised the Islamic state<sup>26</sup>.

20 173. On December 5, 2015 ISIS claimed responsibility for the attack on its radio
 21

3 174. But for ISIS' use of Defendants sites to raise funds, recruit, and conduct terrorist
4 operations, ISIS' ability to conduct terrorist operations would essentially
5 evaporate. Here, had Defendants sites not been used by ISIS, ISIS would not have 6 been able to radicalize Farook and Malik leading to the deadly attack in San 7 Bernadino.

9 10 Defendants Are Information Content Providers

11
12 175. When individuals look at a page on one of Defendants' sites that contains postings
13 and advertisements, the page has been created by Defendants. In other words, a 14 viewer does not simply see a posting. Nor does the viewer see just an 15 advertisement. Defendants create a composite page of content from multiple 16 sources.

17
18 176. Defendants create this page by selecting which advertisement to match with the 19 content on the page. This selection is done by Defendants' proprietary algorithms 20 that select the advertisement based on information about the viewer and the 21 content being viewed. Thus there is a content triangle matching postings,
22 advertisements, and viewers.

25
26
27

28 <sup>27</sup> Id.

1 177. As discussed above, Defendants tout the ability to target advertisements as a
2 benefit to advertising with the respective networks. Furthermore, Defendants
3 extract a premium from advertisers for the use of targeted advertising.

5 178. Although Defendants have not created the posting nor have they created the 6 advertisement, Defendants have created new unique content by choosing which 7 advertisement to combine with the posting with knowledge about the viewer.

9 179. Thus, Defendants have incorporated content from others into Defendant created
10 content for revenue purposes. Defendants' choice to combine certain
11 advertisements with certain postings for specific viewers means that Defendants
12 are not simply passing along content created by third parties.
13

14 180. Specifically, as shown above, Defendants have incorporated ISIS postings along 15 with advertisements matched to the viewer and ISIS postings to create new 16 content for which Defendants have earned revenue. ISIS has received material
17 support as described above allowing them to conduct terrorist operations.
18

19
20 The San Bernadino Attack Was An Act of International Terrorism
21

22 181. One of the state goals of ISIS is to use social media including Defendants
23 platforms to radicalize individuals to conduct attacks throughout the world,
24 including the United States.
25

26 182. By radicalizing individuals through social media, this allowed ISIS to exert its 27

1 influence without the necessity of direct physical contact with these individuals.
2 Furthermore, this allows ISIS to incite or participate in attacks without the
3 necessity of sending its own operatives.

5 183. Thus, an attack in the United States to which ISIS' use of social media caused or 6 contributed is an action by ISIS. Given that ISIS has been declared an 7 international terrorist organization, such an action is an act of international 8 terrorism.

10 184. Farook and Malik were radicalized by ISIS' use of social media. This was the 11 stated goal of ISIS. Farook and Mateen then carried out the deadly attack in San 12 Bernadino. Conducting terrorist acts via radicalized individuals is a stated goal
13 of ISIS.
14

15 185. Farook and Malik's attack on the Inland Regional Center was a violent act causing 16 death and injury and constitutes numerous criminal acts under the laws of the 17 United States.
18

19 186. ISIS intended to intimidate and coerce western populations and governments
20 through a pattern of intimidation and coercion as discussed throughout Plaintiff's
21 Complaint.
22

23 187. ISIS acts from outside the United States using Defendants' platforms in a manner
24 and transcend national boundaries because of the international usage of 25

Defendants' platforms.

188. But for ISIS' postings using Defendants' social media platforms, Farook and Malik would not have engaged in their attack on the Inland Regional Center.

189. Farook and Malik's terrorist actions were a direct result of ISIS' actions and given that ISIS is an international terrorist organization, Farook and Malik's actions were also an act of international terrorism.

CLAIMS FOR RELIEF

14 195. Plaintiffs have been injured in their person by reason of the acts of international

18 international terrorism.
19

21 196. Defendants knowingly provided substantial assistance and encouragement to

7 willful blindness provided to ISIS constitute material support to the preparation
8 and carrying out of acts of international terrorism, including the attack in which 9 Plaintiffs' Decedents were killed.

10
11 199. Defendants' provision of material support to ISIS was a proximate cause of 12 the injury inflicted on Plaintiffs.

14 200. By virtue of its violations of 18 U.S.C. § 2339A, Defendants are liable pursuant 15 to 18 U.S.C. § 2333 for any and all damages that Plaintiffs have sustained.

18
19 SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

20 21 LIABILITY FOR CONSPIRING IN FURTHERANCE OF ACTS OF
INTERNATIONAL TERRORISM PURSUANT TO 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d)

23
24 201. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation of the foregoing
25 paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

26
27
28 202. Defendants knowingly agreed, licensed, and permitted ISIS, its affiliates, and other radical groups to register and use Defendants' sites to promote and carry out

1 ISIS's activities, including ISIS's illegal acts of international terrorism and injured
2 Plaintiffs.

4 203. Defendants were aware that U.S. federal law prohibited providing material
5 support and resources to, or engaging in transactions with, designated foreign
6 terrorist organizations and other specially designated terrorists.

8 204. Defendants thus conspired with ISIS in its illegal provision of Defendants' sites
9 and equipment to promote and carry out ISIS's illegal acts of international 10 terrorism, including the acts that injured Plaintiffs.
11

12 205. By conspiring with ISIS in furtherance of ISIS's committing, planning, or 13 authorizing acts of international terrorism, including acts that caused each of the 14 Plaintiffs to be injured in his or her person and property, Defendants are liable
15 pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a) and (d) for threefold any and all damages that 16 Plaintiffs have sustained as a result of such injuries, and the costs of this suit,
17 including attorney's fees.
18

21 THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF
22

23 PROVISION OF MATERIAL SUPPORT TO TERRORISTS IN VIOLATION
24 OF 18 U.S.C. § 2339a AND 18 U.S.C. § 2333

25 206. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation of the foregoing
26 paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.

27 207. The online social media platform and communication services which Defendants knowingly provided to ISIS, including use of Defendants' services, computers, and communications equipment, substantially assisted ISIS in carrying out its terrorist activities, including recruiting, radicalizing, and instructing terrorists, raising funds, creating fear and carrying out attacks among other things.
28

208. These services and equipment constituted material support and resources pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2339A and they facilitated acts of terrorism in violation of 18
U.S.C. § 2332 that caused the deaths and injury of more than 36 individuals at the Inland Regional Center in San Bernadino.

209. Defendants provided these services and equipment to ISIS, knowing that they were to be used in preparation for, or in carrying out, criminal acts including the acts that injured the Plaintiffs.

210. As set forth more fully above, but for the material support and resources provided by ISIS, the attack that injured the Plaintiffs would have been substantially more difficult to implement.

211. By participating in the commission of violations of 18 U.S.C. § 2339A that have caused the Plaintiffs to be injured in his or her person, business or property,
Defendants are liable pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333 for any and all damages that Plaintiffs have sustained as a result of such injuries.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

1                   PROVISION OF MATERIAL SUPPORT AND RESOURCES TO A
2                   DESIGNATED FOREIGN TERRORIST ORGANIZATION IN VIOLATION
3                   OF 18 U.S.C. § 2339B(a)(1) AND 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a)

- 4                  212. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each and every allegation of the foregoing
5                  paragraphs as if fully set forth herein.
6                  213. By knowingly (or with willful blindness) providing their social media platforms
7                  and communications services, including use of computer and communications
8                  equipment, for the benefit of ISIS, Defendants have provided material support and
9                  resources to a designated Foreign Terrorist Organization under the Antiterrorism
10                 and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 in violation of 18 U.S.C § 2339B(a)(1).
11
12                 214. Defendants knew of (or was willfully blind to) ISIS' terrorist activities.
13
14                 215. Defendants knew (or was willfully blind to the fact) that ISIS had been designated 15                 a Foreign Terrorist Organization by the United States Government.
16
17                 216. The Services and support that Defendants purposefully, knowingly or with willful
18                 blindness provided to ISIS constitute material support to the preparation and 19                 carrying out of acts of international terrorism, including the attack in which the 20                 Plaintiffs were killed or injured.
21
22                 217. The Defendants' provision of material support to ISIS was a proximate cause of 23                 the injury inflicted on Plaintiffs.
24
25                 218. Defendants' violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2339B proximately caused the damages to 26                 Plaintiffs described herein.
27
28

1 219. By knowingly (or with willful blindness) providing material support to a
2 designated Foreign Terrorist Organization, Defendants are therefore civilly liable
3 for damages to Plaintiffs for his injuries pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 2333(a).

5 FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

7 NEGLIGENT INFILCTION OF EMOTIONAL DISTRESS

9 220. Plaintiffs repeat and reallege each of the foregoing allegations with the same force
10 and effect as if more fully set forth herein.

11 221. Defendants engaged in negligent behavior by providing services to ISIS.

12 222. Defendants' acts of providing services to ISIS constituted a willful violation of 13 federal statutes, and thus amounted to a willful violation of a statutory standard.

14 223. As a direct, foreseeable and proximate result of the conduct of Defendants as 15 alleged hereinabove, Plaintiffs has suffered severe emotional distress, and 16 therefore Defendants are liable to the Plaintiffs for Plaintiffs' severe emotional 17 distress and related damages.
18

19 SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF
20

21 WRONGFUL DEATH
22

23 224. Plaintiffs repeat and re-allege each of the foregoing allegations with the same 24 force and effect as if more fully set forth herein.

225. Each of the Defendants' provides services to ISIS that, among other things, substantially assist and contribute to ISIS's ability to carry out its terrorist activities.

226. As set forth more fully above, but for the assistance provided by the Defendants' the terrorist attack that killed each of Plaintiffs' Decedents herein, would have been substantially more difficult to implement.

227. The conduct of each Defendant party was unreasonable and outrageous and exceeds the bounds usually tolerated by decent society, and was done willfully, maliciously and deliberately, or with reckless indifference to the life of the victims of ISIS's terrorist activity, Plaintiffs herein.

228. The conduct of each Defendant was a direct, foreseeable and proximate cause of the wrongful deaths of each of Plaintiffs' Decedents and therefore the Defendants' are liable to Plaintiffs for their wrongful deaths.
